ADVANCES OF THE COMMUNIST ARMIES GET HEADLINES

But Last-Ditch Political Struggle Will Be The Big Decision

UNION IS ENVISIONED

Chiang Working Hard To Create Anti-Communist Pacific Union

This is the concluding article of a series by veteran Far Eastern war correspondent and reporter Howard Handelman on the momentous political and military battle for China.

TAIPEI, Aug. 12—(INS)—Advances of the Communist armies are getting the daily headlines out of China—but it is the last-ditch political struggle now under way that really will decide what finally happens to the 450,000,000 to 500,000,000 Chinese.

On his side, Communist leader Mao Tse-tung is solidifying his announced adherence to the Soviet-led "International United Front."

On the Nationalist side, Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek is working hard to create an apassing anti-Communist Pacific Union.

The Pacific Union envisioned by Chiang and the Philippine President Elpidio Quirino would not have the economic, military or even political strength of the tightly controlled "union" that is made up of the nations behind the Iron Curtain.

None of Chiang's close advisors even hope for any such strength.

What they want immediately is a pact of Asiatic nations which would give moral support to the Nationalist Government by making the weary and almost disinterested Chinese people see that others are with them in the fight against Communism.

The Nationalists feel that although victory is far from them, so is complete defeat. Foreign observers are not so sure but the French, for example, have made it clear that France certainly hopes a Communist victory is delayed as long as possible. One Frenchman with years of service in Asia summed up the attitude by saying:

"France needs time in Indo-China. We are hoping the new government of Bao Dai will succeed, but we know it may take time."

"If the Kuomintang suddenly disappeared and the Communists were in Yunnan on the Indo-China border, then we would be in a bad situation. But if a Kuomintang government exists somewhere, even outside China, then at least we would not be forced into the position of having only a Communist China to deal with."

"But the problem is far more than just a Chinese or French problem."

"It concerns the entire western world. If the Communists control all China, then there will be terrible pressures on countries such as India, the Philippines, Burma, Malaya, Siam and Indonesia in which western nations have a great deal at stake."

This French view seems in agreement with Premier Yen Hsi-Shan on the overall concept of the meaning of the China civil war.

Yen said:

"The thing you must remember is that this is not a civil war but an international war."

Drowning "Victim" Creates Considerable Excitement

The "victim" of "drowning" was rowed ashore from a swim across the Delaware river, last evening, as rescue units grappled the river in the vicinity of the Mill street wharf for his body. Paul Devine, Sixth and Pine streets, Phila., and who is well known in Bristol, was taken in charge by the Bucks County Rescue Squad and the police and taken to the Harriman Hospital for a rest. He appeared to be none the worse for his swim across the river.

Devine, it appears, was with some friends, along the Delaware river, below the Mill street wharf. One of the group reported that Devine was taken ill. After summoning a physician and police, Devine's clothes were found upon the bank. It was immediately thought that Devine was a victim of drowning.

Police were called and units of the Lower Bucks County Marine Association summoned. Ambulances, fire trucks, canteen and rescue boats were rushed to the scene.

Four boats were launched fully manned and the river was being grappled when an individual coming from Burlington Island asked about the drowning. When informed that it was thought that Devine had drowned, He replied that Devine was at the Island swimming. A boat put out for the island and soon returned after picking Devine up as he was swimming back to Bristol.

Devine was hustled into an ambulance and taken to the hospital and put to bed.

RESPONDED TO ALARM

CROYDON, Aug. 12—A trio from Croydon was injured last evening, and the passenger car in which they were riding, and which rolled over, was considerably damaged.

Those hurt: Francis W. Campbell, brush burns and bump on forehead, brush burns and bruises of right shoulder. Mrs. Elizabeth Campbell, wife of above, abrasions of left knee and shock.

Other vehicles operated by Rescue Squad members were traversing the same section of highway at about that time. In some manner the Campbell car went out of control and overturned as it was passing another vehicle. ### Manager of Local Office Addresses Bristol Rotary Club

452 ON LIST, WOMEN

In a talk delivered before the Bristol Rotary Club, at the Elks' Home yesterday afternoon, Francis L. Mathews, manager, of the local office of the Pennsylvania State Employment Service, cited the various advantages to employers and workers alike in using the services of the Bristol office.

In reviewing his subject "The Pennsylvania State Employment Service in the Community" Mathews explained their six point program as follows: (1) Placement of the job seeker; (2) Special services to veterans; (3) Employment counseling and selective placement; (4) Labor market information; (5) Industrial services; and (6) Cooperation with community groups.

"An employer's job order placed with the local office," he said, "provides the link between him and the greatest number of qualified job seekers. By using the local office he can do highly selective hiring without having to interview large numbers of applicants for each opening. When demand for labor cannot be met locally, the Employment Service actively recruits from outside the community through its system of clearance to other offices, nearby, state-wide or even nationwide."

Preceding his prepared talk by a brief statement on the local labor market situation, Mathews stated, "At the present time we have registered for employment in the Bristol office a total of 1,317 applicants of which 452 are women and whose occupations cover a wide variety of skills."

"During the past few months there have been a large number of lay-offs in the local area but at the present time there are definite signs of improvement in the near future at least in some industries."

WIPING OUT MALARIA IN VENEZUELA, S. A.

Through Comprehensive Gov't Health Program Employing Insecticide

A PENNSALT FORMULA

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 12—Malaria, dread disease of the tropics, is being wiped out in Venezuela by a comprehensive Government health program employing a new anti-malarial insecticide developed by The Pennsylvania Salt Manufacturing Company. It was revealed here today.

Known as Pamisc—Pennsalt Anti-Malarial Insecticide—suspensible Concentrate—the special DDT formula is being used exclusively by the Division of Malaria in Venezuela's Department of Sanitation and Social Welfare to eliminate malaria in rural areas of the South American country, according to Richard L. Davies, president of Pennsalt International Corporation, international subsidiary of the parent firm.

In the State of Carabobo alone, according to figures supplied to Pennsalt International by Dr. Arnoldo Gabaldon, chief of the Division of Malaria, the malaria mortality rate of 1908 per 100,000 of population in 1945 was reduced to 3.6 in 1948, a drop of 97.7 per cent.

In Cojedes a 91.6 per cent reduction was recorded when the mortality rate fell from 575 per 100,000 to 48.1. During the same period, country-wide fevers of all types decreased from 68,000 to 30,000 per month.

The value of DDT in combatting mosquitoes which carry the disease first was proved during the war when it was extensively used by the Armed Forces in tropical countries. However, Venezuelan fighters of malaria found that DDT compounds available were too expensive to transport and use for protection of entire populations on a Latin American national budget basis.

Transportation of 5% solutions of DDT in kerosene or alcohol into remote interior villages would have added too much to the cost. Tests, conducted by the Division of Malaria, revealed that for use on homes with earthen walls, dry DDT powders dispersed in water remained active against mosquitoes longer than solutions of Technical DDT in kerosene, or DDT emulsions. Dry powders were preferred also because they presented no fire hazard.

The only DDT powders available at that time which could be dispersed in water, however, were

BUCKS BENEFICIARIES GET $56,000 MONTHLY

Under Old-Age and Survivors Insurance Provisions of S. S. Act

FOR FAMILY MEMBERS

At the present time checks amounting to over $56,000 each month are being mailed to beneficiaries in Bucks County under the Old-Age and Survivors Insurance provisions of the Social Security Act.

More than $670,000 were paid to residents of Bucks county during the past year under the Act. This announcement was made by H. C. Hoover, manager of the Norristown office of the Social Security Administration.

These insurance payments are being made to qualified retired workers, their wives who are 65 or over, and to their children under age 18. In addition to the monthly insurance payments to the retired worker and his family, monthly benefits are also made to widows, children and parents of deceased workers who died insured under the program.

As of July first, there were 2833 beneficiaries in the Bucks area receiving $56,118 each month. These figures, the manager explained, represent a substantial increase over the payments for the same period a year ago. The amount of money being paid out each month is 10 per cent greater than last year, and the number of people receiving these payments has increased by 16 per cent.

In spite of these increases, Mr. Hoover stated, there are still some people in this area who are eligible for payments, but are not receiving them, simply because they have failed to file their claims promptly.

FIGURES CAN LIE

The Economic and Social Council of the United Nations is now studying the first section of a world economic report for 1948 prepared for it by the UN's Department of Economic Affairs. It wants to know what is happening in order to recommend worldwide measures which, if taken by the nations in concert, will cushion the world-wide recession.

One set of figures in the report is particularly interesting. Bulgaria led the world in improving her industrial production, according to this table, reaching 179 per cent of her 1937 figure. Russia was second, with 171 per cent of 1937. The United States was third, with 170 per cent. In general, nations in the Soviet orbit show up better in the table than nations receiving Marshall Plan aid.

The UN will make honest use of these figures. One can count on the communists to make dishonest use of them, to "prove" that the Soviet system is superior to the American system. Yet the statistics warrant no such conclusion, for two reasons: (1) They are unverified figures, given to the UN by governments themselves. (2) They are percentages, not quantities.

An actual illustration will show how misleading percentage comparisons can be. According to Soviet figures, Russia produced 200,000 motor vehicles in 1937, 270,000 in 1948. The United States produced 4,807,600 in 1937, and 5,285,400 in 1948.

There are two ways of stating that. The first is to say Russian production of motor vehicles rose by 35 per cent, American by 10 per cent. The other is to say that Russia produced 70,000 more vehicles in 1948 than in 1937, while the United States produced 477,800 more than in 1937—almost seven times the Russian gain.

Russia prefers to issue her statistics in percentage form. It is easy to see why.

VACATIONS ENDED

It was nice work — while you could get it. Up until several days ago, jobless workers in New York State could retreat to the cool lakes and forests of the Adirondacks and the Catskills and still draw their unemployment compensation checks. However, with jobless pay checks, flowing out at the rate of $7,500,000 a week, New York officials finally decided to clamp down on those vacationing at the taxpayers' expense. From now on, New Yorkers will have to show some signs of looking for work in places where there is at least some possibility that a job will turn up if they want to keep on drawing unemployment compensation.

Who wouldn't rather spend the summer paddling a canoe on a lake, with nothing to do but call at the post office once a week for a check from the state, to tramping the hot streets of New York looking for a job? But one does wonder at the generosity of a state commission willing to hand out unemployment pay to people who spend their time vacationing instead of hunting work to do.

School are children will attend the first part of the morning prayer service which will be especially planned for them. After receiving a card of attendance the children will be excused to a period of supervised recreation on the church grounds.

The rector will lead a period of instruction in religious education principles which will be followed by a period of discussion. All parents, friends and teachers of the Church School are invited to attend. This is the first in a series of Tuesday night sessions in preparation for the opening of the fall term. this is a civil war. It is not. It is an international war of Communism versus anti-Communism.

"Already this war is spreading to other Asiatic countries. 'Therefore it is not an internal war.'"

"China is merely the vanguard of the anti-Communist forces." Then the aged Premier, who was military and political dictator of his province for more than 30 years, said:

"We expect foreign aid, but we will carry on the war whether or not we get it. It is not logical to say that we cannot fight without foreign aid because we have 200,000,000 people and a vast territory only slightly smaller than the area of the United States."

"China is conducting a war versus Communism, the Third International and the Cominform. We are the vanguard, fighting a part of a war in which the other countries are interested."

Wiping Out Malaria In Venezuela, S. A.

ordinary wettable powders. To apply such powders large quantities of expensive agricultural type spraying equipment with mechanical agitation would have to be purchased and transported, Davies explained.

Protection of the many small adobe in widely separated rural Venezuelan communities—especially in areas with rough terrain—required the use of knapsack sprayers without mechanical agitation.

A chemist from the company's Whitmarsh Research Laboratories was sent to Venezuela to work with the Division of Malariologia, while other research and experimentation were conducted at Whitmarsh.

Shortly thereafter Pennsalt produced Pamisc 50, meeting all specifications set up by Dr. Gabaldon. Recently the company began production of an improved version, known as Pamisc 75, containing 75% DDT.

To be completely sure of the effectiveness of the new insecticide, Dr. Gabaldon subjected it to intensive tests of his own in the Government laboratories at Maracay. The product met every test, but it still had to be proven in the field.

The man-against-mosquito battle began when 60 trucks, each with an eight-man crew, were filled with Pennsalt's insecticide and sent into the rough rural areas where the incidence of malaria was highest. Each man was equipped with a knapsack sprayer into which the insecticide was poured after being mixed with water at the point of use.

Every rural home was sprayed, and on each home was stenciled a certificate attesting the date of spraying and the insecticide used.

"Pamisc meets all the specifications to our entire satisfaction," said Dr. Gabaldon in a report to the Venezuelan Director of Public Health. "Besides providing uniform suspensions, it has eliminated the problem of obstruction of the sprayer's nozzles, which had been a difficulty with ordinary wettable powders."

"More than 500,000 pounds of Pamisc 50, having the code name WB-50 V, have been used with great success in Venezuela," according to the Bulletin of the Pan American Sanitary Bureau, central coordinating sanitary agency of the American Republics.

"Twenty to 25 square meters per minute are covered with two grams of DDT per square meter by means of Dobbins 55 sprayer using 5 per cent Pamisc 50, or Spraying System T-Jet 8002 with Lofstrand spray pump using 10 per cent Pamisc 50. In both cases Pamisc is simply mixed with water at the point of use."

Pennsalt's improved product, Pamisc 75, will result in considerable savings in transportation and handling costs in that less product is required for the same spraying effectiveness, Davies said. Under the old plan for using Technical DDT dissolved in kerosene, it was necessary to carry 200 tons of this 5 per cent solution to the point of use for every 10 tons of actual DDT in the solution. With Pamisc 75, for every 10 tons of DDT used, it is necessary to carry only 13 tons of solution to the point of use.

Bucks Beneficiaries Get $56,000 Monthly

The law will not permit any payment being made, he explained, until an application has been filed. "Among the people who file claims with our office each month," Mr. Hoover continued, "a study just completed revealed that seventeen retired wage earners lost monthly benefits ranging from $10 to $765 total simply because they waited too long before filing their claims." In order to insure that there will be no loss of these payments, the manager emphasized, every wage earner who has worked in jobs covered by the Social Security Act should get in touch with the Social Security office when he is 65 and no longer working in a job covered by the law, so that his rights may be protected. Similarly when a worker dies some member of his family should always notify the Social Security Administration of the death as soon as possible.

Anyone desiring information on the Old-Age and Survivors Insurance provisions of the Social Security Act, or anyone wishing assistance in the filing of claims for benefits should call or write to the Social Security Administration, Room 205 Post Office Building, Norristown, Pennsylvania. This office is open Monday through Friday, from 9:00 a. m. to 5:00 p. m.

Fellman and Louder Clans Conduct Annual Reunions

Two of the week-end family reunions held in Bucks County were those of the Fellman and Louder clans.

Descendants of the late Moses and Luetta (Barnes) Louder met on Sunday at the home of Lucy C. Bean, at Danboro.

Dinner and supper were served picnic style on the shaded lawn surrounding the old stone house, built in 1800.

Officers were re-elected as follows: President, Mr. Edward O. Shaddinger, Plumsteadville; vice-president, Mrs. Raymond Fenton, Morrisville; treasurer, William T. Pierce, Allentown, N. J.; secretary, Lucy C. Bean, Danboro.

A duet by the Misses Polly and Arnel Shaddinger, a trio by Mrs. Edward O. Shaddinger and the Misses Patricia and Arlene Shaddinger, was presented.

With a Colmar octogenarian present, the 31st annual Fellman family reunion was held Saturday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Paul S. Hendricks, Hilltown, with 35 members in attendance.

Children of various ages enjoyed sports under the direction of Melbourne Ringler and Miss Jeanette Hendricks, after which a program took place.

SPORTSMEN'S BRIEFS

By JOE ELBERSON

Remember August 23... for all member clubs of the Bucks County Federation of Sportsmen's Clubs participating in the Federation's pheasant raising project, August 23 is the date for distribution of the birds.

Each club must have its representative to pick up its quota of pheasants at the Eastern State Penitentiary (near Schwenksville) on the above date, between 11 o'clock in the morning. And each representative must check in at the main Prison office before proceeding to the pheasant pens.

Good trip... in spite of the fact that salt water fishing is generally pretty poor right up and down the Jersey coast, six Bristol anglers had a good catch last Sunday when they fished out of Brielle aboard Captain Ed Andrews' boat, "The Fox." No tuna hooked, but when the boat docked the boys had 56 nice-sized blues. In the party was Ray Mari, Albert Jennings, Tucker Gross, Joe Mari, Len Angus and Steve Clotti.

Cruel and thoughtless... those two words don't begin to do full justice to what those persons should really be branded who ride out into the countryside and deliberately push dogs out of their cars. Unwanted cats are often dealt a like fate by persons who must be imbecile in mind to perform such deeds.

And the practice is far too common in this area. To take a pet (dog or cat), which has looked to its owners for food and shelter, and drive out along an unpopulated section of road, push the animal out where it must shift for itself or starve, is a despicable trick.

Latest such action to come to my attention was reported two days ago. Briefly, the details were that the puppy which could not have been over six weeks old (and he was a cute little fellow) was so emaciated that every rib stood out in bold relief and he couldn't stand on all fours when his whippersnappers attracted his rescuers to him in Rocky Woods, north of Edgely.

The privilege of owning a dog should be denied forever to those who are so barbarous.

Will represent Bristol... a five-man casting team from the Bristol Fish & Game Protective Association will journey to Harrisburg this Sunday to take part in a 3/4 ounce accuracy casting tournament that is expected to draw entries from all sections of the country. Casting for the trophy will be the following Bristol casters: Ollie Hobbs, captain, William Durr, George Efling, Homer Hobbs and Arnold North.

Duck stamp bill passes... ducks, geese and other waterfowl will have more protection and more refuge with the recent passage of the Johnson-Thompson Duck Stamp Bill (Federal), reports the National Wildlife Federation, which has supported this and similar measures for several sessions of Congress. By a voice vote the lower House of Congress gave its approval to the Senate bill.

Briefly, the provisions of the bill are (1) increases the price of the Duck Stamp from $1 to $2, (2) retains the provision that 10 per cent of the revenues arising from the sale of the stamps shall be used for protection of waterfowl and administrative expenses including payment to the Post Office Department for printing and distribution of the stamps, (3) provides that the remainder of the revenue (90 per cent) shall be used for the acquisition, development, maintenance and administration of wildlife management and inviolate bird sanctuaries for migratory birds and (4) authorizes the Fish and Wildlife Service to open, not to exceed 25 per cent of any newly acquired refuge to public hunting under regulation and management, when the waterfowl population is not on a downward spiral.

The House adopted a Committee approved amendment providing that the revenues from the sale of Duck Stamps would be available to the Fish and Wildlife Service only through annual Congressional appropriations. This means that the Service will have to justify annually the amounts which it requests from this fund through the Budget.

Target shoot... there will be a 16-yard practice blurock shoot over the traps of the Newportville Rod & Gun Club this Sunday, beginning at 2 p. m. All shooters are welcome.

FIFTH WARD TEAM CLINCHES 5TH SPOT IN BRISTOL LEAGUE

Fifth Ward Sporting Club clinched fifth position, final playoff spot, in the Bristol Suburban Softball League, by swamping the Fleetwings Estates team, 12-1, on the latter's field last evening.

The Warders had a field day with the bat getting a total of fourteen hits. They were also the recipient of seven passes.

Frank Russo hit the pill hard for the winners, getting a double and three singles in four official trips to the plate. Henry Liberatore and Joe Pica also had two hits each for the winners.

The Estates' team in suffering their 26th loss of the campaign was held to six hits by the combined pitching of Liberatore and Paul Paolillo. Liberatore pitched the first four innings and Paolillo the last three.

Tony Zanni and "Mike" Graver (twisted for the losers with Zanni getting the defeat).

FLEETWINGS AVENGES EARLY SEASON DEFEAT

The Fleetwings' team avenged an early season defeat by coming back to beat the Manhattan Soap contingent, 10-4, last evening on the Hunter-Wilson field in an Industrial Softball League tilt.

Pitcher Dick McKinney and Shortstop Art Kramers paced the winners' attack with three for three and three for four, respectively.

The "Wingers" had a 4-2 edge going into the fifth and then settled the issue by pushing six markers across the plate.

Manhattan had several opportunities to score in the late innings but passed them up. "Bill" Conoline and Angelo Nocito drove in the Manhattan runs while Phil Valponi and Nocito each had two out of three.

SECOND WARD A. C. ADDS ANOTHER TO ITS WIN COLUMN

Second Ward A. C. regular season champions of the Bristol Suburban Softball League, added another game to its win column last evening as it won a thriller from Franklin, 3-2, on Memorial Park field.

The contest was a hurling match between "Chick" Stansky and "Jim" Brescia with Stansky being the winner. Second Ward had 10 hits off Brescia while the losers could muster but three off Stansky. In addition, Stansky had seven strikeouts.

Both teams scored a pair of runs in the first inning. For Second Ward, Pezulla singled and both Mike Angelo and Jim Sottile followed with base knocks. Gene Barbetta scored Pezulla with a hit while Angelo scored while Massi was throwing out Marucci. When Cornelius Chichiletti walked the bags were loaded but Nate Chichiletti hit into a force-play.

Kewick opened the Franklin's half of the frame with a walk. Orliola struck out. Massi singled to right and when Barbetta fumbled Fred Fields' grounder, two runs scored.

With the count deadlocked until the fourth, Nate Chichiletti made himself a committee of one by lambasting one of Brescia's pitches into deep centerfield for a home run to win the game.

Fields opened the Franklin sixth with a double but could not be advanced. The Franklin team also passed up a scoring opportunity in the fourth when Frank Barbetta got on via an error. Wallick singled, and Clotti walked. But two were out at the time the sacks became loaded and Brescia grounded out to Pa-lumbo.

ST. JAMES' DEFEATS CORNWELLS TEAM

Although they left twelve runners stranded last evening, St. James' 17 hit attack netted them enough runs to defeat Cornwells Methodist 7 to 2.

Leading St. James at the plate were Jack Bailey, Tranter and Bell with three hits each, while MacCorkle and Bell starred afield for the winners. Nichols led the losers with two hits while Mudie starred afield for the losers, robbing several players of base hits.

The victory kept St. James' hopes alive for catching the league leading Pensance Methodist team who have a one game lead over the Episcopallians.

"Battle for China:" ADVANCES OF THE COMMUNIST ARMIES GET HEADLINES

But Last-Ditch Political Struggle Will Be The Big Decision

UNION IS ENVISIONED

Chiang Working Hard To Create Anti-Communist Pacific Union

This is the concluding article of a series by veteran Far Eastern war correspondent and reporter Howard Handelman on the momentous political and military battle for China.

By Howard Handelman (Far Eastern Director, International News Service)

TAIPEH, Aug. 12—(INS)—Advances of the Communist armies are getting the daily headlines out of China—but it is the last-ditch political struggle now under way that really will decide what finally happens to the 450,000,000 to 500,000,000 Chinese.

On his side, Communist leader Mao Tse-tung is solidifying his announced adherence to the Soviet-led "International United Front."

On the Nationalist side, Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek is working hard to create an opposing anti-Communist Pacific Union.

The Pacific Union envisioned by Chiang and the Philippine President Elpidio Quirino would not have the economic, military or even political strength of the tightly controlled "union" that is made up of the nations behind the Iron Curtain.

None of Chiang's close advisors even hope for any such strength.

What they want immediately is a pact of Asiatic nations which would give moral support to the Nationalist Government by making the weary and almost disinterested Chinese people see that others are with them in the fight against Communism.

The Nationalists feel that although victory is far from them, so is complete defeat. Foreign observers are not so sure but the French, for example, have made it clear that France certainly hopes a Communist victory is delayed as long as possible. One Frenchman with years of service in Asia summed up the attitude by saying:

"France needs time in Indo-China. We are hoping the new government of Bao Dai will succeed, but we know it may take time."

"If the Kuomintang suddenly disappeared and the Communists were in Yunnan on the Indo-China border, then we would be in a bad situation. But if a Kuomintang government exists somewhere, even outside China, then at least we would not be forced into the position of having only a Communist China to deal with."

"But the problem is far more than just a Chinese or French problem."

"It concerns the entire western world. If the Communists control all China, then there will be terrible pressures on countries such as India, the Philippines, Burma, Malaya, Siam and Indonesia in which western nations have a great deal at stake."

This French view seems in agreement with Premier Yen Hsi-Shan on the overall concept of the meaning of the China civil war.

Yen said:

"The thing you must remember is that this is not a civil war but an international war."

"Some people mistakenly think

Drowning "Victim" Creates Considerable Excitement

The "victim" of "drowning" was rowed ashore from a swim across the Delaware river, last evening, as rescue units grappled the river in the vicinity of the Mill street wharf for his body. Paul Devine, Sixth and Pine streets, Phila., and who is well known in Bristol, was taken in charge by the Bucks County Rescue Squad and the police and taken to the Harriman Hospital for a rest. He appeared to be none the worse for his swim across the river.

Devine, it appears, was with some friends, along the Delaware river, below the Mill street wharf. One of the group reported that Devine was taken ill. After summoning a physician and police, Devine's clothes were found upon the bank. It was immediately thought that Devine was a victim of drowning.

Police were called and units of the Lower Bucks County Marine Association summoned. Ambulances, fire trucks, canteen and rescue boats were rushed to the scene.

Four boats were launched fully manned and the river was being grappled when an individual coming from Burlington Island asked about the drowning. When informed that it was thought that Devine had drowned, he replied that Devine was at the island swimming. A boat put out for the island and soon returned after picking Devine up as he was swimming back to Bristol.

Devine was hustled into an ambulance and taken to the hospital and put to bed.

TRIO FROM CROYDON HURT; CAR OVERTURNS

Ambulance Travelling Just Ahead is Turned Around To Transport Victims

RESPONDED TO ALARM

CROYDON, Aug. 12—A trio from Croydon was injured last evening, and the passenger car in which they were riding, and which rolled over, was considerably damaged.

Those hurt:

Francis W. Campbell, brush burns and bump on forehead, brush burns and bruises of right shoulder.

Mrs. Mary Fawks, abrasions and shock.

The three were riding in an automobile operated by Mr. Campbell, en route down State road, following a call to a supposed drowning at Bristol. Other vehicles operated by Rescue Squad members were traversing the same section of highway at about that time. In some manner the Campbell car went out of control and overturned as it was passing another vehicle. It is thought that possibly a tire "blew," according to the investigating officer, Chief of Bristol Township Police Joseph Seader.

Squad members who were riding ahead in one of the ambulances saw the accident in the mirror, and the ambulance was turned about and took the trio to the office of a physician.

1317 REGISTER FOR EMPLOYMENT HERE

Manager of Local Office Addresses Bristol Rotary Club

452 ON LIST, WOMEN

In a talk delivered before the Bristol Rotary Club, at the Elks' Home yesterday afternoon, Francis L. Mathews, manager, of the local office of the Pennsylvania State Employment Service, cited the various advantages to employers and workers alike in using the services of the Bristol office.

In reviewing his subject "The Pennsylvania State Employment Service in the Community," Mathews explained their six point program as follows: (1) Placement of the job seeker; (2) Special services to veterans; (3) Employment counseling and selective placement; (4) Labor market information; (5) Industrial services; and (6) Cooperation with community groups.

"An employer's job order placed with the local office," he said, "provides the link between him and the greatest number of qualified job seekers. By using the local office he can do highly selective hiring without having to interview large numbers of applicants for each opening. When demand for labor cannot be met locally, the Employment Service actively recruits from outside the community through its system of clearance to other offices, nearby, state-wide or even nationwide."

Preceding his prepared talk by a brief statement on the local labor market situation, Mathews stated, "At the present time we have registered for employment in the Bristol office a total of 1317 applicants of which 452 are women and whose occupations cover a wide variety of skills."

"During the past few months there have been a large number of lay-offs in the local area but at the present time there are definite signs of improvement in the near future at least in some industries."

WIPING OUT MALARIA IN VENEZUELA, S. A.

A PENNSALT FORMULA

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 12—Malaria, dread disease of the tropics, is being wiped out in Venezuela by a comprehensive Government health program employing a new anti-malarial insecticide developed by The Pennsylvania Salt Manufacturing Company. It was revealed here today.

Known as Penisalt—Pennsalt Anti-Malarial Insecticide—suspensible Concentrate—the special DDT formula is being used exclusively by the Division of Malaria in the Department of Sanitation and Social Welfare to eliminate malaria in rural areas of the South American country, according to Richard L. Davies, president of Pennsalt International Corporation, international subsidiary of the parent firm.

In the State of Carabobo alone, according to figures supplied to Pennsalt International by Dr. Arnoldo Gabaldon, chief of the Division of Malaria, the malaria mortality rate of 190.8 per 100,000 of population in 1948 was reduced to 3.6 in 1949, a drop of 97.7 per cent.

In Cojedes a 91.6 per cent reduction was recorded when the mortality rate fell from 575 per 100,000 to 48.1. During the same period, country-wide fevers of all types decreased from 68,000 to 20,000 per month.

The value of DDT in combating mosquitoes which carry the disease first was proved during the war when it was extensively used by the Armed Forces in tropical countries. However, Venezuelan fighters of malaria found that DDT compounds available were too expensive to transport and use for protection of entire populations on a Latin American national budget basis.

Transportation of 5% solutions of DDT in kerosene or alcohol into remote interior villages would have added too much to the cost. Tests conducted by the Division of Malaria revealed that for use on homes with earthen walls, dry DDT powders dispersed in water remained active against mosquitoes longer than solutions of Technical DDT in kerosene, or DDT emulsions. Dry powders were preferred also because they presented no fire hazard.

The only DDT powders available at that time which could be dispersed in water, however, were

BUCKS BENEFICIARIES GET $56,000 MONTHLY

FOR FAMILY MEMBERS

At the present time checks amounting to over $56,000 each month are being mailed to beneficiaries in Bucks County under the Old-Age and Survivors Insurance provisions of the Social Security Act.

More than $670,000 were paid to residents of Bucks county during the past year under the Act. This announcement was made by H. C. Hoover, manager of the Norristown office of the Social Security Administration.

These insurance payments are being made to qualified retired workers, their wives who are 65 or over, and to their children under age 18. In addition to the monthly insurance payments to the retired worker and his family, monthly benefits are also made to widows, children and parents of deceased workers who died insured under the program.

As of July first, there were 2893 beneficiaries in the Bucks area receiving $56,118 each month. These figures, the manager explained, represent a substantial increase over the payments for the same period a year ago. The amount of money being paid out each month is 10 per cent greater than last year, and the number of people receiving these payments has increased by 15 per cent.

In spite of these increases, Mr. Hoover stated, there are still some people in this area who are eligible for payments, but are not receiving them, simply because they have failed to file their claims promptly.

Wiping Out Malaria In Venezuela, S. A.

ordinary wettable powders. To apply such powders large quantities of expensive agricultural type spraying equipment with mechanical agitation would have to be purchased and transported, Davies explained.

Protection of the many small adobe in widely separated rural Venezuelan communities—especially in areas with rough terrain—required the use of knapsack sprayers without mechanical agitation.

A chemist from the company's Whitmarsh Research Laboratories was sent to Venezuela to work with the Division of Malariologia, while other research and experimentation were conducted at Whitmarsh.

Shortly thereafter Pennsalt produced Pamise 50, meeting all specifications set up by Dr. Gabaldon. Recently the company began production of an improved version, known as Pamise 75, containing 75% DDT.

To be completely sure of the effectiveness of the new insecticide, Dr. Gabaldon subjected it to intensive tests of his own in the Government laboratories at Maracay. The product met every test, but it still had to be proven in the field.

The man-against-mosquito battle began when 60 trucks, each with an eight-man crew, were filled with Pennsalt's insecticide and sent into the rough rural areas where the incidence of malaria was highest. Each man was equipped with a knapsack sprayer into which the insecticide was poured after being mixed with water at the point of use.

Every rural home was sprayed, and on each home was stenciled a certificate attesting the date of spraying and the insecticide used.

"Pamise meets all the specifications to our entire satisfaction," said Dr. Gabaldon in a report to the Venezuelan Director of Public Health. "Besides providing uniform suspensions, it has eliminated the problem of obstruction of the sprayer's nozzles, which had been a difficulty with ordinary wettable powders."

More than 500,000 pounds of Pamise 50, having the code name WB-50 V, have been used with great success in Venezuela," according to the Bulletin of the Pan American Sanitary Bureau, central coordinating sanitary agency of the American Republics.

"Twenty to 25 square meters per minute are covered with two grams of DDT per square meter by means of Dobbins 55 sprayer using 5 per cent Pamise 50, or Spraying System T-jet 8002 with Lofstrand spray pump using 10 per cent Pamise 50. In both cases Pamise is simply mixed with water at the point of use."

Pennsalt's improved product, Pamise 75, will result in considerable savings in transportation and handling costs in that less product is required for the same spraying effectiveness, Davies said. Under the old plan for using Technical DDT dissolved in kerosene, it was necessary to carry 200 tons of this 5 per cent solution to the point of use for every 10 tons of actual DDT in the solution. With Pamise 75, for every 10 tons of DDT used, it is necessary to carry only 13 tons of solution to the point of use.

Bucks Beneficiaries Get $56,000 Monthly

The law will not permit any payment being made, he explained, until an application has been filed. "Among the people who file

claims with our office each month," Mr. Hoover continued, "a study just completed revealed that seventeen retired wage earners lost monthly benefits ranging from $10 to $765 total simply because they waited too long before filing their claims." In order to insure that there will be no loss of these payments, the manager emphasized, every wage earner who has worked in jobs covered by the Social Security Act should get in touch with the Social Security office when he is 65 and no longer working in a job covered by the law, so that his rights may be protected. Similarly when a worker dies some member of his family should always notify the Social Security Administration of the death as soon as possible.

Anyone desiring information on the Old-Age and Survivors Insurance provisions of the Social Security Act, or anyone wishing assistance in the filing of claims for benefits should call or write to the Social Security Administration, Room 205 Post Office Building, Norristown, Pennsylvania. This office is open Monday through Friday, from 9:00 a. m. to 5:00 p. m.

Fellman and Louder Clans Conduct Annual Reunions

Two of the week-end family reunions held in Bucks County were those of the Fellman and Louder clans.

Descendants of the late Moses and Luetta (Barnes) Louder met on Sunday at the home of Lucy C. Bean, at Danboro.

Dinner and supper were served picnic style on the shaded lawn surrounding the old stone house, built in 1800.

Officers were re-elected as follows: President, Mrs. Edward O. Shadlinger, Plumsteadville; vice-president, Mrs. Raymond Fenton, Morrisville; treasurer, William T. Pierce, Allentown, N. J.; secretary, Lucy C. Bean, Danboro.

A duet by the Misses Polly and Arlene Shadlinger, a trio by Mrs. Edward O. Shadlinger and the Misses Patricia and Arlene Shadlinger, was presented.

With a Colmar octogenarian present, the 31st annual Fellman family reunion was held Saturday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Paul S. Hendricks, Hilltown, with 35 members in attendance.

Children of various ages enjoyed sports under the direction of Melbourne Ringler and Miss Jeanette Hendricks, after which a program took place.
